In a world marked by persistent societal inequalities, the Colorism Healing Writing Contest 2024 emerges as a beacon of hope, empowering diverse voices and fostering healing through the transformative power of storytelling.

What is Colorism?

Colorism, a subtle yet pervasive form of discrimination, assigns value to individuals based on the shade of their skin. It operates within and across racial groups, perpetuating harmful stereotypes and creating a hierarchy of worthiness.

The Colorism Healing Writing Contest aims to challenge these deeply ingrained biases by providing a platform for marginalized voices to share their experiences, perspectives, and aspirations.

The Power of Storytelling

Storytelling has long been a catalyst for social change, fostering empathy, challenging norms, and inspiring collective action. Through the written word, we have the ability to delve into the complexities of human experience, shedding light on injustices and promoting understanding.

The Colorism Healing Writing Contest recognizes the profound impact of storytelling in shaping our collective consciousness. By amplifying diverse voices, we can create a more inclusive narrative that reflects the richness and beauty of our shared humanity.

The Call for Submissions

Writers of all backgrounds and experiences are invited to submit original, unpublished works of fiction, non-fiction, poetry, or drama that explore the themes of colorism, healing, and social justice.

Submissions should be between 500 and 2,500 words and must demonstrate a deep understanding of colorism and its impact on individuals and communities.

The Healing Journey

The Colorism Healing Writing Contest is not merely a competition but a transformative journey that empowers writers to heal their own wounds and contribute to the collective healing of our society.

By sharing their stories, writers can connect with others who have experienced similar challenges, fostering a sense of community and belonging. Through the act of writing, they can process their emotions, confront their fears, and emerge with a renewed sense of strength and resilience.

The Contest Guidelines

The Colorism Healing Writing Contest 2024 is open to all writers over the age of 18. Submissions must be in English and adhere to the following guidelines:

- Length: 500-2,500 words
- Genre: Fiction, non-fiction, poetry, or drama
- Theme: Colorism, healing, social justice
- Format: Microsoft Word or PDF

The deadline for submissions is March 31, 2024.

The Prizes

The Colorism Healing Writing Contest offers a range of prizes to recognize the outstanding contributions of its participants:

- Grand Prize: $1,000 and professional mentorship
- First Place: $500 and publication in an anthology
- Second Place: $250 and a writing workshop
- Honorable Mentions: Recognition and publication online

The Legacy

The Colorism Healing Writing Contest 2024 is more than just a contest. It is a testament to the power of storytelling in challenging societal norms, fostering healing, and creating a more just and equitable world.

The contest's legacy will extend beyond its immediate participants, inspiring future generations to use their voices for good and to contribute to the ongoing struggle for equality.

Join the Movement

We invite you to join the Colorism Healing Writing Contest 2024 and contribute your unique voice to this transformative movement. Together, let's break down the barriers of colorism, heal our wounds, and create a society where all voices are valued and celebrated.
